COOPERATIVE SCENARIO

THE VALLEY OF WILD MAGIC

Author: Wololoeren

The old ley-lines in the Valley of Wild Magic have ruptured. From each broken seam, hostile life pours forth in ever-thickening tides. The waves come without mercy: the first are a test, the last are intent on annihilation. Form your lines and fight as one – the valley will not be sealed by lone blades.

SCENARIO LENGTH

This Scenario is played over 14 Rounds.

PLAYER SETUP

Player Count: 1–7

Starting Resources: 4, 5, 1

Starting Income: 10, 2, 0

Starting Units:

- A "Pack" of chosen Units
- Search (2) the Neutral Deck.

Town Buildings: Building, City Hall.

Map Tile Pool: Each player takes their Faction's Starting (I) Map Tile and 2 Far (II–III) Map Tiles.

MAP SETUP

Take the following Map Tiles (P stands for the number of players):

- $P \times$ Starting (I) Map Tile
- $2P \times$ Far (II–III) Map Tile
- $7 \times$ Near (IV–V) Map Tile, P of which must contain an Obelisk. If not enough are available, treat Witch Huts as Obelisks. The remaining $7 - P$ are random.

Arrange the 7 Near (IV–V) Map Tiles into the flower shape shown in the Scenario map layout, then hand each player their Starting Map Tile and 2 Far Map Tiles.

VICTORY CONDITIONS

Collect $P \times 5$ Gems between all players by the end of Round 14 (see Difficulty Settings for additional requirements).

DEFEAT CONDITIONS

4th and 8th Rounds:

- Remove all Black Cubes from every Starting Map Tile.

13th and 14th Rounds:

- After drafting the Evoker Spells, each player places their Starting Map Tile and their Main Hero on it.

- Once per Round, players may pay 1 to cast an Evoker Spell. No other player may cast the same Evoker Spell in that same Round. A player may do this even while another player is the active player or is fighting. The casting player counts as the current player for that Spell. An Evoker Spell can only be empowered by Cards from the casting player's hand. Evoker Spells do not count towards the Spell limit.
- Whenever a player would Search (X) the Spell Deck, they may instead take any one Evoker Spell into their hand and Search (X) for its replacement.

COMBAT ON OBELISK FIELDS

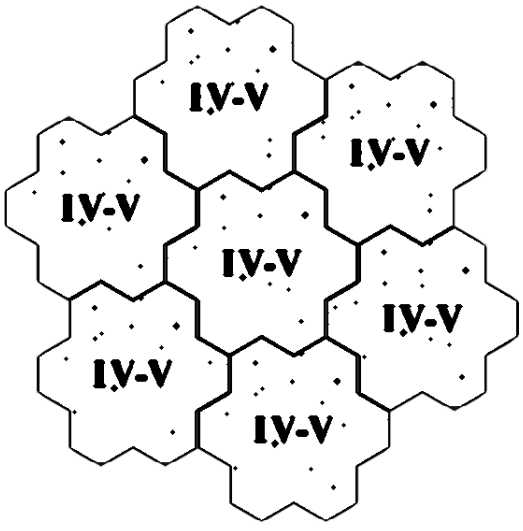

- Combat on an Obelisk Field is fought against 1 Unit, plus 1 additional Unit for every Black Cube already placed on that Field.
- Combat on an Obelisk Field can be fought multiple times.
- After winning Combat on an Obelisk Field, place a Black Cube on that Field, then move the Hero back to the last Field they visited before the Combat.
- If Combat on an Obelisk Field would have 6 or more Units, replace every Unit above the 5th with an Initiative Stack Token.
- Extending Combat on an Obelisk Field does not require , but the Hero loses all remaining after the Combat ends.
- Winning Combat on an Obelisk Field rewards 1 and 1 Gem for every Unit and Stack Token defeated.

OTHER RULES

- Use Faction Cubes of a Faction not in play to track Gems.
- Combat on a Level V Field cannot be resolved with Quick Combat, and rewards 1 Gem in addition to .

- A player standing on a Trading Post may send Resources to any other player.

CLASH SCENARIO

SECRET BOMB STASH

Author: NeuroN

Source: Archon Studios Discord

Rumors speak of an abandoned bomb stash in this area. Use it to destroy your opponents. But be careful – your enemies might already be one step ahead.

SCENARIO LENGTH

This Scenario is played over 8 Rounds, with up to 4 additional tie-breaking Rounds if needed.

PLAYER SETUP

Player Count: 2–4, 6 Player FFA or 2vs2, 2vs2vs2, 3vs3 Alliance

Starting Resources: 40

Starting Income: 20, 2, 1

Starting Units:

- 2 × A "Few" of the cheapest Units
- A "Few" of the cheapest Units

Town Buildings: Dwelling, Dwelling, Citadel, Mage Guild

Map Tile Pool: None

Additional Bonus (replaces Starting Bonus):

- Search (4) the Artifact Deck and shuffle the Card into your M&M Deck.

Before the start of the Scenario, instead of performing the usual Search (2) Spells twice, each player performs a Search (4) Spells once. Players start at Level III (before the start of the Scenario, instead of the usual Search (2) Abilities twice, each player performs a Search (4) Abilities once).

MAP SETUP

- Center (VI–VII) Map Tile must contain the Grail Field.
- Each Near Tile must contain an Obelisk (if that's not possible, treat Witch Huts as Obelisks).
- Take the following Map Tiles and arrange them as shown in the Scenario map layout (P stands for the number of players):

For a 2- and 4-player Scenario:

- P × Starting (I) Map Tile
- 4 × Near (IV–V) Map Tile
- 1 × Center (VI–VII) Map Tile

For a 3- and 6-player Scenario:

- P × Starting (I) Map Tile
- 6 × Near (IV–V) Map Tile
- 1 × Center (VI–VII) Map Tile

VICTORY CONDITIONS

Deposit bombs (Grail) into the enemy Town to score Victory Points (VPs). The game lasts for 8 Rounds:

- A player/alliance wins when they score 3 VPs. The Scenario ends immediately after a single player/alliance deposits their third bomb.
- If no one scores 3 VPs by the end of the 8th Round, the player/alliance with the most VPs wins the Scenario.
- If VPs are tied, the Scenario goes into sudden death. The first player/alliance to score a VP during the next 4 Rounds (9–12) wins the Scenario.

- In any other situation, the game ends in a tie between the players with the most VPs.

DEFEAT CONDITIONS

Players lose if they don't score enough VPs within the designated number of Rurns.

TIMED EVENTS

Every Astrologers Proclaim Round:

- Each Hero gains +1 , except for the current bomb carrier.

ADDITIONAL RULES

During this Scenario:

- Heroes cannot attack other players' Towns unless they are carrying the bomb.
- Heroes cannot attack the bomb carrier from their Starting Town Field.
- In Clash Mode with more than 2 players, the Town that was bombed most recently cannot be bombed again.

Center Tile:

- On the Center Tile, players can freely move through neutral combats of Level VI, as if they had the basic Pathfinding Ability (they can choose to fight there but don't have to, and cannot end their turn there without resolving the combat).
- Level VII combat is ignored. The Hero that reaches the Grail space receives the bomb (Grail token). Place the Grail token under the bomb-carrying Hero's miniature.

The Bomb:

- The bomb carrier cannot gain extra from any Card, Town Building, Map Location, or any other effect.
- If your other Hero or an allied Hero is adjacent to the bomb carrier, you can transfer the bomb to them.
- If defeated, the bomb is placed on the space where the Hero was defeated and can be claimed by any other Hero by visiting that Field.
- If held by the Main Hero:
  - ▷ If defeated, the Hero does not have to pay their opponent 5 , nor do they gain .
- If held by a Secondary Hero:
  - ▷ If defeated, the Hero is moved to the Town instead of being removed.
  - ▷ The Hero can use your M&M Deck during combat.

Obelisks:

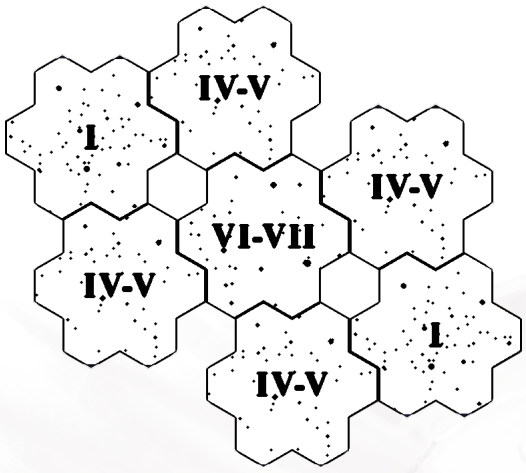

- When first flagged, the Hero gains +1 .
- On each visit (including the first), you can choose to either:
  - ▷ Move the visiting Hero to any other Obelisk already flagged by you (if that Obelisk is occupied by another Hero, your Hero cannot move there).
  - ▷ If the Hero carries the bomb, transfer the bomb to your other Hero (or any allied Heroes).

Scoring Victory Points (VPs):

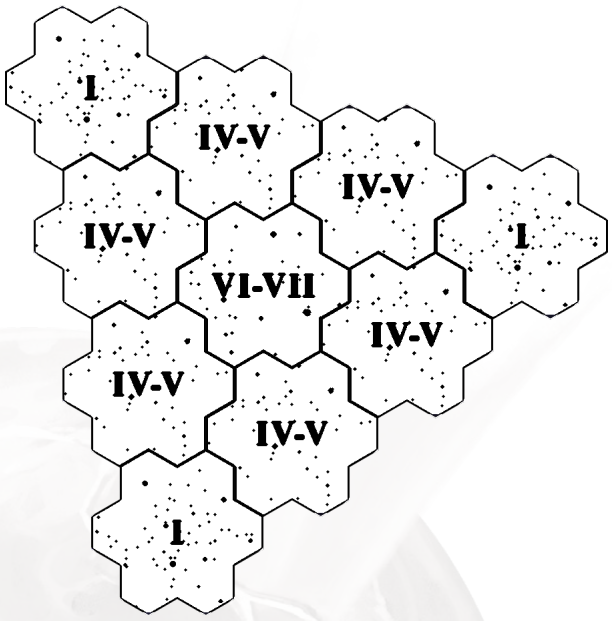

A player/alliance earns 1 VP after winning a siege or entering the enemy Town while carrying the bomb.

- After such an event, the victorious Hero is moved back to their own Town, and the Grail token is returned to the Grail space in the center. If any Hero is standing on that Field when the Grail is placed, they immediately become the bomb carrier.
- The defending player does not lose control of their Town after losing the siege.

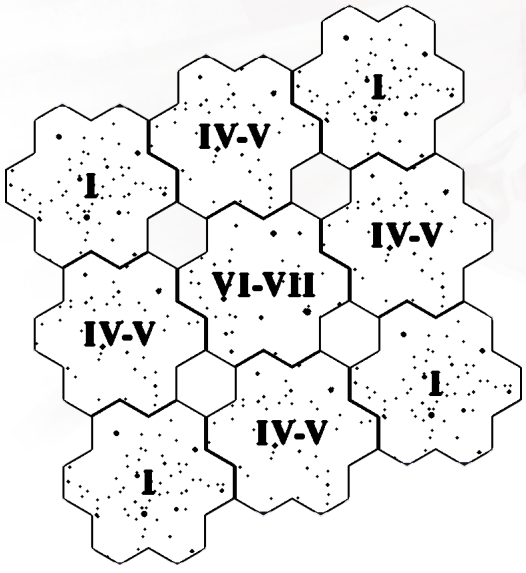

You can track VPs by collecting Faction Cubes of your opponent's color or using a color not in use by any player.

To pass this trial, you must defeat everyone in the land by whatever means necessary. Good luck, cadet. May the Light shine down upon you.

A quiet trail

The dark and foreboding trail is ominously quiet. Suddenly you hear the hissing of hundreds of snakes. Before you even get a chance to turn back, more than two dozen Medusae slither out and attack.

- Medusas remain in their spot on the Far Map Tile regardless of how the Map Tile is rotated after discovery.
- Combat with a "Pack" of Medusas requires no additional .
- If a Neutral army is also present on this Map Tile, it must be battled separately after the Medusas are defeated.

The raiders

Forest Guard rangers must deal with a wide variety of unexpected and troublesome situations. There will come times when things will not go as planned. This is one of those times. Several of your supply trains have been hit by raiders and their contents looted. Deal with this situation.

- Lose: 3 , 1 , 1 .
- The difficulty level of every Combat encounter on all Far Map Tiles increases by one until the end of the Scenario (see page 35, "Field Difficulty Level Table" in the Core Rulebook).

Pandora's Box

You receive an eerie feeling from the box before you. A glow pulsates around it and an odd colored fog issues forth from its cracks.

- Start Combat with a "Pack" of Efreet and a "Pack" of Genies instead of the standard Neutral army.
- In addition to the Field reward, gain 1 .

Continued raids

If the Necropolis and Inferno Faction Towns have not been captured yet, raiders continue to disrupt your supply lines.

Depending on the Round, lose from its income:

- 9th: 10
- 11th: 20
- 13th: 30

RAMPART COOP CAMPAIGN – ELIXIR OF LIFE

Lord Falorel: Rumor has it that the Ring of Vitality, one of the essential components of the Elixir of Life, is located in the Shantanna region of southern AvLee. AI HERO SETUP

Faction: Necropolis

Before beginning this Scenario, find all Necropolis Neutral Unit Cards in all Neutral Unit Decks, and set them aside. These will only be used by Necropolis Charging Armies.

Charging Armies move after the Players do, and take the shortest route to the Player that has the Crest of Valor or the Angel Wings.

They ignore everything else, except they will take mines only if flagged by the Rampart player (but they will not backtrack to flag a mine).

Take the following Map Tiles and arrange them as shown in the Scenario map layout:

2 × Starting (I) Map Tile

- 1 × Rampart (S4)
- 1 × Necropolis (S1)

5 × Far (II–III) Map Tile

4 × Near (IV–V) Map Tile

- 2 × Dungeon (N2, N5)

HEROES PLACEMENT

ADDITIONAL RULES

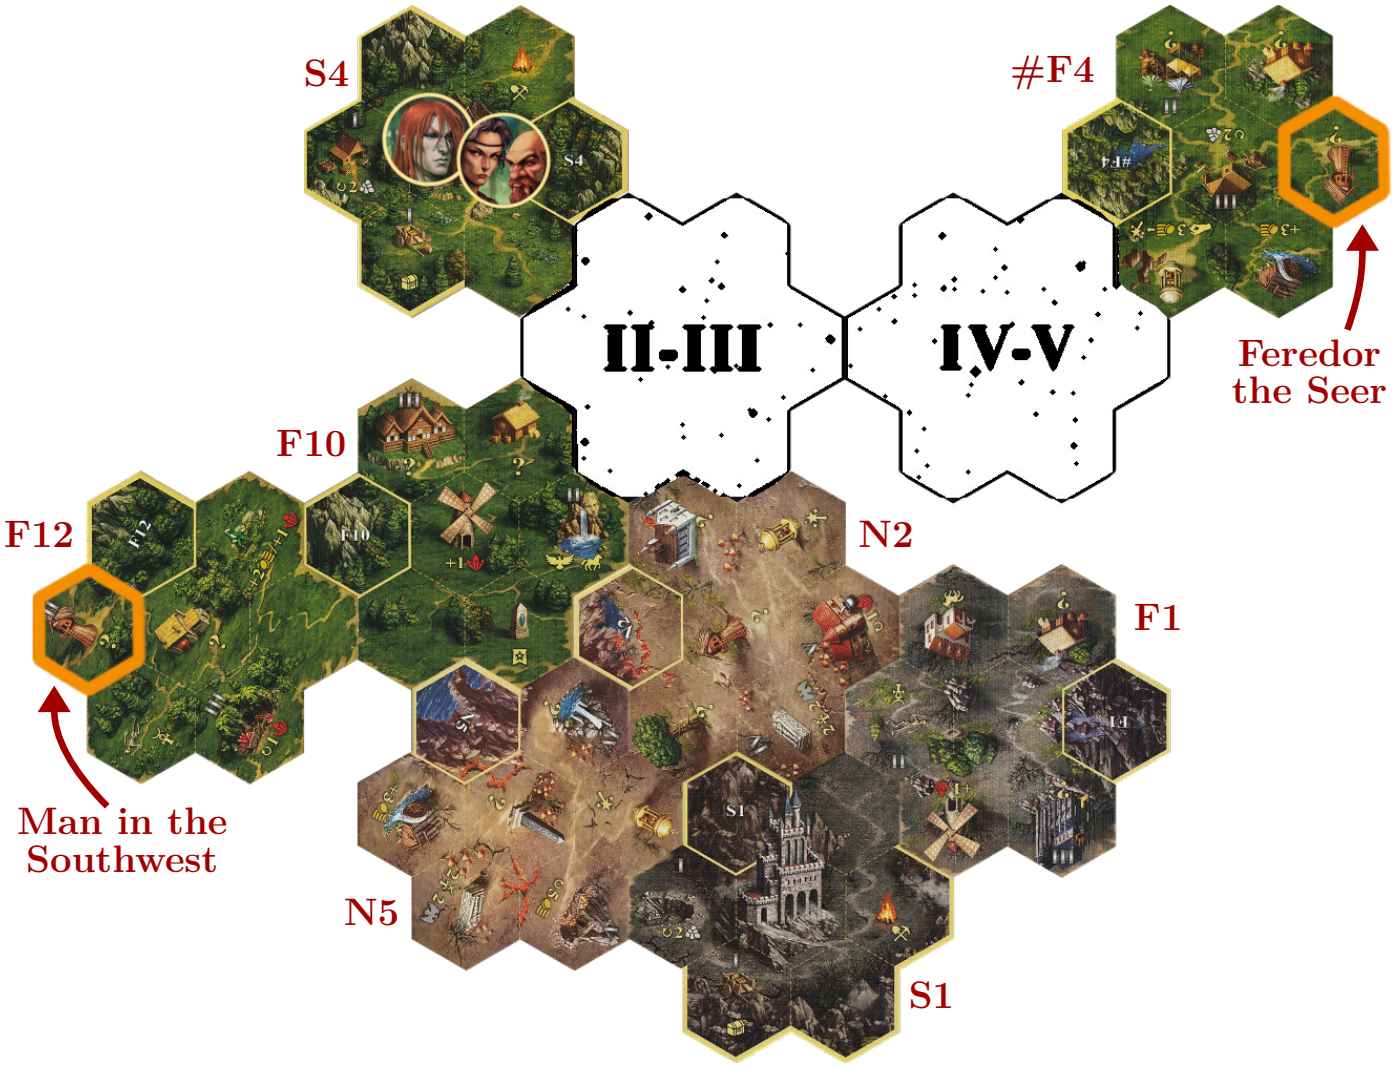

During this Scenario:

- Gelu cannot surrender. Player 2 can surrender. If player 2 is defeated in Combat, lose 5 and both Heroes gain a token. Player 2 Hero is then placed in any Town or Settlement you control, or on a Field adjacent to Gelu.
- You cannot recruit a Secondary Hero.
- Gain 2 every time you defeat an Enemy Army.
- Players can trade the Crest of Valor and Angel Wings from their hand if they are on adjacent Fields on the map.

COMBAT WITH NECROPOLIS CHARGING ARMIES

Every time a Combat encounter starts, draw a Neutral army from the Necropolis Units set aside, with a difficulty level equal to your Hero Level.

Every time a Necropolis Charging Army is defeated, they re-appear on the Necropolis Town (S1). If the Town is occupied, they re-appear on the Necropolis Settlement (F1). They can move again in the next Resource Round.

THE STORY

Local Warlords

The warlords in this region are cutthroats and madmen. They have been looting caravans, razing villages, and butchering garrisons with no thought given to the consequences to their homeland. They will foolishly sell the Ring of Vitality to the Necromancers and betray their countrymen merely to fill their coffers with gold. These traitors should be given no quarter and shown no mercy.

First Scout Report

Your spies tell of Feredor, a seer in the Northeast (#F4) who knows the location of the Ring of Vitality. Seek him out, learn the Ring's location, and then retrieve it. Be wary! The necromancers are also looking for the Ring.

Second Scout Report

Our scouts report that one of the warlords has made contact with the Necromancers and is planning a meeting very soon. Time is of the essence. Should that Ring fall into the Necromancers' hands you will need to take it from them by force. Use whatever means are necessary to keep that Ring safe. Remember that the best defense is a strong offense: clear this region and defend against any enemy incursion into the Rampart grasslands.

The Seer

The seer in the Northeast is an old wise man named Feredor. Seek his advice, but be warned he shall not give you the Ring outright. He is said to issue a test to those who seek the Ring. Perform whatever task he asks, for you must obtain that Ring.

Feredor the Seer – first encounter

Feredor the seer sees the Rampart hero approach and knows he must help them against the hordes of undead. "I can tell you where the Ring can be found. But you must prove your worthiness. Bring back the Crest of Valor to me. Now hurry!"

Roll an Attack Die to determine the Crest of Valor's location:

+1 – The Crest is on the empty Field of F12

0 – The Crest is on the empty Field of F10

-1 – The Crest is on the Magic Springs Field of N5.

Terrible Dreams

Last night your sleep was wracked with terrible dreams, visions of the dark events to come. You were haunted by images of a cloaked figure sweeping his skeletal hand across a grassy plain, leaving behind a desolate land overrun by legions of undead monsters. Sinister laughter echoed throughout your mind and soul. You awoke, fearful and shaken but still resolved to obtain the Ring of Vitality.

Feredor the Seer – second encounter

If you are in possession of the Crest of Valor, read: "There is a man in the southwest (F12) who has it. He lives in a small hut. He will only give it to one who he deems worthy. Bring him these Angel Wings and he will know I sent you. Move with haste, there is little time."

Remove the Crest of Valor from the game, and put Angel Wings into your hand.

The Man in the Southwest

If you do not have the Angel Wings (in your hand or Deck) and enter this Field, the Man in the Southwest says: "You are a fool! You are not worthy! Be gone!"

If you are in possession of the Angel Wings (in your hand or Deck) and enter this Field, the Man in the Southwest says: "Ahhhhh, I see Feredor sent you. You are worthy. Here, I give you the Ring of Vitality!"

Bandits

If you haven't secured all mines in all the Grass Map Tiles, bandits have attacked your supply lines and taken valuable resources.

Lose: 5 , 1 , 1 .

COOP CAMPAIGN RULES

In addition to the Cooperative Mode rules (see page 11, "Cooperative Mode" in the Core Mission Book), these rules apply to the Rampart's Elixir of Life Campaign.

- Both players utilize the same Rampart Town Board. The Town Board and Actions function as normal unless otherwise stated below, but both players must work together to determine which Town Actions to take and when.
- When the Population Token is used, both players can Recruit and Reinforce Units.
- Only one player can utilize a Town building's effects when they are used each Round (Mage Guild, Saplings, Spell Book Token, etc.).
- All resources gathered (, ,) are shared between both players. Both players must decide how these resources are spent.
- Players always decide what Units each player will have for each Round. This happens at the very beginning of each Round, immediately after the Round Tracker advances. Each player must take half of all recruited Units (including Neutral ones). If there is an odd number of total Units recruited, one player will take one Unit more.
- Players can swap Units and War Machines if their Heroes are adjacent to each other on the map. If a Unit swap occurs, players must still maintain having half of all recruited Units (with one player having one more if an odd number are recruited).
- Whenever players Recruit Units using the Population Token , players decide which player the Unit will go to for this Round. This is the only time the "half" rule does not need to be followed. Use this to your advantage!
- Players cannot trade Cards from their Deck or hand. Each player's M&M Deck is solely their own throughout the Campaign.
- Optional rule: players can trade one Artifact Card from hand in exchange for an Artifact Card from the other player's hand, if player Heroes are adjacent to each other on the map.
